Patricia Neumann

Vice President

Patricia Neumann became Chief Executive Officer of Siemens AG Austria on May 1, 2023. Prior to her role at Siemens AG Austria, she spent more than 25 years at IBM, where she was most recently responsible for software sales for data, artificial intelligence and automation in Europe, the Middle East and Africa. Neumann studied at the Vienna University of Economics and Business Administration and held various executive roles at IBM in London, Milan and Germany, among other places. After spending several years abroad, she returned to Vienna with her family, where she was Managing Director of IBM Austria from 2017 to 2021.